Contributors to this issue of the STEEPLE are warmly thanked. Contributions based on the theme of "The Gifts of Christmas", drawings, jokes, puzzles, photographs of church-related activities, anecdotes, personal experiences which would help others, Christmas recipes, and Christmas Quizzes are invited from congregation members and friends of the C.S.I. Egmore Wesley Church for publication in the Christmas issue which would be released in the first week of December 2007. Youthful writers are particularly encouraged. Contributors are requested to hand in TYPED matter to the Church Office on or before Sunday 11th November 2007. We require time to proof the magazine and design it. So please do adhere to the above cut-off date.

Dearly Beloved,

Greetings in Jesus's precious name.

Praise and glory be to the living God who has seen us through all the days of the past upto this moment. God has been so faithful in blessing us despite the odds in our life. God has blessed us more than what we could imagine and ask for. His concern for our wellbeing is immeasurable. But though God is much pleased in extending His grace and blessings to us, He does not forcefully thrust His blessings upon us. God expects us to be worthy of His blessings. What does the Lord ask of us to become worthy of his goodness? Deut. 10: 12-13 says And now, O Israel, what does the Lord your God ask of you but to fear the Lord your God, to walk in all His ways, to love him, to serve the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul, and to observe the Lord's commands and decrees that I am giving you today for your own good? The Lord is not asking us to give all our wealth to him. Rather, our heart that inclines to love him and abide by his precepts. That is God's deep desire and yearning. In Deut. 5: 29 God says, Oh, that their hearts would be inclined to fear me and keep all my commands always, so that it might go well with them and their children for ever.

All that we strive for in this world is to receive God's blessings. When God tells us the way to inherit his blessings why shouldn't we earnestly do what God expects us to do. Let us make our life on earth more meaningful and blessed by doing that which God expects of us. With this spirit of belonging to God, we must do that which is pleasing in God's sight as a Church. All the programmes and activities of our Church should be geared towards edification of the Church, meeting the needs of the poor and the oppressed and winning souls for Christ and thereby extend the borders of God's kingdom.

I earnestly plead with you all to pray for our children who are preparing themselves for confirmation on 18th November 2007 at the morning service. Let us pray that our children will commit themselves to belong to Christ and walk in God's ways all the days of their life. Let us also pray for our beloved Bishop who will be conducting the confirmation service.

I request you kindly to update your family details at the earliest. If the address and phone, mobile numbers are changed kindly make them known to the Church Office immediately because sometimes I find it very difficult to locate your house during house visiting.

Kindly approach me for fixing up dates for Marriage, Baptism and so on to avoid any inconvenience. Your valuable suggestions for the growth and welfare of the Church are welcome. Please feel free to write to us. Let us work together as a team to glorify God. Be assured of my prayers for you always.

May the blessings of the Triune God be upon each of us.

In His Service
Leonard Baskar Samuel

THE CROSS

Lonely, yet rugged, majestic it stood,

A monument of strength and sacrifice,
against the evening skies,

As the gentle breeze whistled by,
it heaved a sigh.

A sigh of triumph and accomplishment,
though with a hint of grief,

A task of profound pain but borne so beautifully, finally accomplished.

Yet a moment that would live through the sands of time.

Nails are its identity but it gives me my new identity.

Tainted with sorrow and shame,
which swept away by tears and blood

It beckons to me, drawing me closer with an aura of courage and assurance.

A ray of hope, through my shadow

- Jemima Veena Manuel

ONCE UPON A TIME....

God created the donkey and told him: "You will work tirelessly from sun-up to sun-down, carrying heavy bags on your back. You'll eat grass, you will not have intelligence and you will live for 50 years. You will be a Donkey!".

The donkey answered: "I'll be a donkey, but living 50 years is too much, give me only 20 years." And God gave him 20 years.

God created the dog and told him: "You will look after the house. You will be his best friend. You will eat whatever they give you and you will live for 25 years. You will be Dog!".

The dog answered: "God, living 25 years is too much, give me only 10." So, God gave him 10 years. God created the monkey and told him: "You will do silly things. You will be amusing and you will live for 20 years. You will be a monkey".

The monkey answered: "God, living 20 years is too much, give me only 10 years," and God agreed.

Finally, God created man, and told him: "You will be Man, the only rational being on this earth. You will use your intelligence to control other animals, and you will dominate the world and will live for 20 years." The man answered: "God, I'll be man, but living 20 years is not enough, why don't you give me the 30 years that the donkey refused, the 20 years that the dog did not want and the 10 years that the monkey refused."

That was what God did, and since then, man lives 20 years like a man. Then he gets married and spends 30 years like a donkey, working and carrying the load on his back. Then when his children leave, spends 15 years like a dog, looking after the house and eating whatever is given to him. Then he gets old, retires, and spends 10 years like a monkey, jumping from house to house, or from children to children, doing silly things to amuse the grandchildren.

CONFESSIONS OF A PROUD CHURCH

by Greg Gordon

THE GREATEST DANGER

Do we have a broken heart for the state for the Church? There are so many dangers in a Church age that is content, prosperous, fat, and "having need of nothing!" Christ's last words to the Church was "repent" in the letters of Revelation because he said "I know thy works." Christ knows your works nothing is hid from His eyes. Many Christians are living in utter sinful lifestyles that grieve the heart of God. Francis Frangipane said: "The greatest danger facing the Church today is exhaustion because God is resisting us as a proud Church." The scriptures say plainly: "God resists the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble." If you do not humble yourselves now then there will be a "day" of humbling to come. We must relent and humble ourselves while it is still called "today." The time is short. Leonard Ravenhill stated it is "either Pentecost or Holocaust." These are our choices! We must either humble ourselves and allow God to revive His Church or continue in our proud self-confident Christianity and send the multitudes to hell.

14 "WE HAVE" CONFESSIONS ...

Hear the heart searching words of Horatius Bonar as he openly confesses to the ministers of his day the shortcomings of the Church of Jesus Christ and calls for an introspection of our hearts:

1. We have been unfaithful. The fear of man and the love of his applause have often made us afraid. We have been unfaithful to our own souls, to our flocks, and to our brethren; unfaithful in the pulpit, in visiting, in discipline, in the church.
2. We have been carnal and unspiritual. The tone of our life has been low and earthly. Associating too much and too intimately with the world, we have in a great measure become accustomed to its ways.
3. We have been selfish. We have shrunk from toil, difficulty and endurance, counting not only our lives dear unto us, but even our temporal ease and comfort. We have sought to please ourselves, instead of obeying Romans 15 :2: "Let every one of us please his neighbor for his good to edification."

4. We have been slothful. We have been sparing of our toil. We have not endured hardness as good soldiers of Jesus Christ. Even when we have been instant in season, we have not been so out of season; neither have we sought to gather up the fragments of our time, that not a moment might be thrown idly or unprofitably away.
5. We have been cold. Even when diligent, how little warmth and glow! The whole soul is not poured into the duty, and hence it wears too often the repulsive air of routine and form. We do not speak and act like men in earnest.
6. We have been timid. Fear has often led us to smooth down or generalize truths which if broadly stated must have brought hatred and reproach upon us. We have thus often failed to declare to our people the whole counsel of God.
7. We have been wanting in solemnity. How deeply ought we to be abased at our levity, frivolity, flippancy, vain mirth, foolish talking and jesting, by which grievous injury has been done to souls, the progress of the saints retarded, and the world countenanced in its wretched vanities.
8. We have preached ourselves, not Christ. We have sought applause, courted honor, been avaricious of fame and jealous of our reputation. We have preached too often so as to exalt ourselves instead of magnifying Christ, so as to draw men's eyes to ourselves instead of fixing them on Him and His cross.
9. We have used words of man's wisdom. We have forgotten Paul's resolution to avoid the enticing words of man's wisdom, lest he should make the cross of Christ of none effect. Thus, by avoiding the offense of the cross and the foolishness of preaching we have had to labor in vain, and mourn over an unblest, unfruitful ministry.
10. We have not fully preached a free gospel. It is only a free gospel that can bring peace, and it is only a free gospel that can make men holy.
11. We have not duly studied and honoured the Word of God. We have given a greater prominence to man's writings, man's opinions, man's systems in our studies than to the Word. We have drunk more out of human cisterns than divine. We have held more communion with man than God.
12. We have not been men of prayer. The spirit of prayer has slumbered amongst us. The closet has been too little frequented and delighted in.

We have allowed business, study or active labour to interfere with our closet-hours.

13. We have not honoured the Spirit of God. It may be that in words we have recognized His agency, but we have not kept this continually before our eyes, and the eyes of the people. We have not given Him the glory that is due unto His name. We have not sought His teaching, His anointing-the "unction from the Holy One, [whereby] ye know all things" (1 John 2:20).

14. We have had little of the mind of Christ. We have come far short of the example of the apostles, much more of Christ; we are far behind the servants, much farther behind the Master. We have had little of the grace, the compassion, the meekness, the lowliness, the love of God's eternal Son. His weeping over Jerusalem is a feeling in which we have but little heartfelt sympathy.

MORE CONFESSIONS ...

We are full of presumption.

We exalt our group and personal doctrines.

We are self-sufficient.

We are unwilling to pray.

We are too proud to truly ask for help.

We have a critical spirit.

We do Kingdom business by the world's standards.

We do not tremble at the Word of the Lord.

We are full of hypocrisy.

We have dethroned Jesus and enthroned ourselves.

We are trapped in self-consciousness.

We are ensnared by the love of money.

We have gone to bed with the world.

We promote personalities rather than principles.

We do not know how to humble ourselves.

We are full of excuses - refuse to take responsibility.

We are competitive with one another.

We are carnal in our leadership.

We have a controlling spirit.

We are self-seeking.

We deny the Lordship of Christ.

We purport to repent without repenting, giving God's spiritualese.

We do not have the fear of the Lord.

We do not trust God's grace or mercy.

We have confused obedience and grace.

We are adulterers and fornicators.

We have refused to preach and teach the whole truth.

We have pleased men rather than God.

We have exchanged righteousness for self-righteousness.

We have evangelized but have not disciplined.

We have sinned so that grace may abound.

We do not know what manner of spirit we are.

We have turned the 'sermon on the mount' to mourning of the sermon.

We refuse admittance, confession, heart-ward repentance.

We do not truly believe that;

We are wretched, poor, naked, blind, miserable.

We hate correction.

We despise shame.

We will not suffer.

We prophecy lies and have no shame nor trembling.

We refuse to contemplate.

We do not hate our lives in this world.

We have the plank of an I in the eye.

We will forever be learning without coming to the truth.

We will not weep over our condition.

We will miss the very help that contrition brings.

We will read all these things and cast them aside.

We will let this all slip right on by.

THE LANGUAGE OF LOVE

Three siblings visited us, all of them Senior Citizens. Our friendship started more than fifty years ago.

As I opened the door for them there was so much of laughter, cheer and goodwill of course accompanied by hugs and kisses.

Seeing Edwin the excitement grew and all the three showed so much of tender love and affection. It reminded me of scripture verses which says "Faith without deeds is dead, love one another with brotherly love."

We had a lot to reminiscence about the good old days and all the fun we had in our younger days. We had wonderful time together. So much to laugh about and remember.

This visit of theirs is very special and touching for us because two of them are currently being treated for a very serious disease and one has just lost her spouse.

Their own problems were not even mentioned but just pushed aside. They focused only on Edwin and his welfare.

After their visit we both had an indescribable sweet feeling. They had left a lasting fragrance which will linger with us for a long time to come.

"Bending down to lift others is a good experience for the heart"

Therefore I urge you, brothers in view of God's mercy to offer your bodies as living sacrifices, holy and pleasing to God - this is your spiritual act of worship. Rom 12:1

The Fruits of the Spirit

The Fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control. Against such things there is no law.

Galatians 5:22-23

Love is the Christlike reaction to people's malice.

Joy is the Christlike reaction to depressing circumstances.

Peace is the Christlike reaction to troubles, threats, and invitations to anxiety.

Patience is the Christlike reaction to all that is maddening.

Kindness is the Christlike reaction to all who are unkind.

Goodness is the Christlike reaction to bad people and bad behaviour.

Faithfulness and gentleness are the Christlike reactions to lies and fury.

Self-control is the Christlike reaction to every situation that goads you to lose your cool and hit out.

J.I.Packer, Rediscovering Holiness.

"Guide me O thou Great Jehovah"

A ship was moving along a place where there were rocks and sand heaps hidden under water. All the inmates of the ship were scared since they thought that if the ship would dash against the rocks, it would surely be wrecked and if it would be caught into the sand heaps, it would get buried inside the same.

A passenger on the ship ran towards the captain with great fear in his face and asked him whether he knew the location of the rocks and sand heaps under the water so that he could steer the ship smoothly without any hindrance. The captain replied promptly "I don't know where there are rocks and sand heaps in the sea, but I know where the sea is deep so that I can guide the ship through that way".

If we know in which place the sea is deep, we need not worry about the rocks and heaps. Likewise, if we can understand that Jesus is the proper guide for us to lead us in a right path, we need not worry about the ups and downs in our life.

The ways of man are before the eyes of the Lord and He pondereth all His goings (Proverbs 5:21) God always leads us in the way of righteousness in the midst of paths of Judgement (Proverbs 8:20; Psalm 23:3). All the paths of the Lord are mercy and truth unto such as keep his covenant and his testimonies (Psalm 25:10). His words are the light unto our paths and leads us through the right path (Psalm 119:05) When my spirit was overwhelmed within me then God knows our paths and leads us through the right path (Psalm 142:3) God directs us towards the right path if you keep on thinking of Him, throughout the way of your life (Proverbs 3:6), The blind who know not their way will be led by our Father Almighty. The dark path will be turned into a lighted one, crooked paths will be made straight by Him. Thus God will never forsake them (Isaiah 42:16).

When we pass through waters, He will be with us, so we need not worry about the rocks and sand heaps along-the deep sea (Isaiah 43:2). He will go before us and set right the crooked paths into straight one (Isaiah 45:2). He also leads us through the way that we should go (Isaiah 48:17).

This is the testimony which I wish to give connected with this message. When I was in Government Service as Asst. Professor, Professor I was transferred out from Chennai for a long period (about 11 years) since I had no influence at higher level except God. I had suffered a lot, being separated from my family. I got disgusted and depressed. At last, being induced by my colleagues, I was ready to pay an amount to the people concerned for the transfer. I prayed to God that he should forgive me and I was to give the amount within a week. During that time, one of my classmates in Annamalai University met me after 34 long years just to request me to vote for him in the University syndicate election. Only that day, I came to know that he was the Minister's brother. Since I didn't promise anybody I got 3 votes for him, two votes of my brother and son in addition to my vote. He was very happy and gave me some hopes that he would try his best for my transfer. To my great surprise and shock, the day before I had to give money to the party, my classmate phoned up to me that I got the posting at Chennai. Thus I was prevented by God to go in a wrong path. My Lord directed me to go in the right path for which he provided me ways and means. Praise the Lord.

This small article is concluded with the verses of the Hymn "Lead us heavenly Father, Lead us" in honour of my beloved husband the late Mr.S.Theodore Selvaraj.

"Lead us, heavenly Father, lead us
O'er the World's tempestuous sea,
Guard us, guide us, keep us, feed us,
For we have no help but Thee;
Yet possessing every blessing
If our God our Father be

WORSHIP

An important spritual exercise is worship, we are hesitant to call worship a discipline as it is not something that can be generated.

"Worship" is the response of a heart in love with God, which is more spontaneous and more responsive. We are to focus the soul's attention on God at His attributes and character. So worship is focusing on the greatness, the glory and the supreme worth of God and responding to Him in adoration. Each prayer and hymn sung in the service should end with Amen-which implies the precise meaning as "Aye let it be so lord" and without the 'Amen' we fail to receive the blessings.

True worship is the remedy for the perplexity of life and a fear-filled conscience. Worship and witnessing are two sides of the same coin.

Worship is the quickening of conscience by God's holiness, the nourishment of mind with His truth, the purifying of imagination by His beauty, the opening of the heart to His love, the surrender of will to His purpose. Worship begins with a focus on God and a consideration of His worth. Worship is adoring God for the things, He has done, is doing and is going to do. Worship is easier to describe than define.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES

A thanksgiving service in memory of the Rev. John Millns was conducted at the Egmore Wesley Church on the 5th August 2007 after the morning service. It was led by our Pastor. It was enriched by choral tributes by the church choir which sang 'Abide with me', 'The Lord's my Shepherd', 'Round me falls the night', and 'Rejoice in the Lord always' as a tribute to Padre who used to conduct the choir and contributed to the singing when he ministered.

The congregation sang 'Rejoice, the Lord is King', 'Jerusalem my happy home, and 'God be with you till we meet again' which were some of Padre's favourites.

Dr. A.K.Raju spoke highlighting two points : Padre's respect and financial responsibility for the contributions from the congregation and the other his love of kittens. Once when the elders along with Dr. Thambiah were counting the offertory after Sunday evening service a one-rupee coin rolled away and it was found after a long search of a few hours. Padre refused to make up the lost rupee with a voluntary contribution from one of the elders. Padre showed his love for stray kittens and finding them foster homes with congregation members and checking up on their welfare when he made his periodical house visits.

Mrs. Flossie Raj in her tribute revealed how Padre brought out the hidden talents from everyone and utilized them for the benefit of others. For instance he took the children of the then mali Lakshmanan to Flossie's home in Adyar, made them study their lessons with her and brought them back in his car to church. He loved to help the less fortunate. The service ended with the 'Hallelujah Chorus' by the choir.

Another memorial service was held on the same day at the Broadway Wesley Church soon after the morning service. Music was rendered by the 'Shamas' under the leadership of Mrs. Damayanthi Santwan. They sang 'Great is your mercy Lord', 'How beautiful are the feet', 'Christ who knows', 'The Lord's mindful of His own' 'Since by man came death', 'How lovely are the messengers', , 'Ave verum', and 'Let there be peace on earth'. Mrs. Santwan also paid her tribute to Padre.

A third memorial service was conducted at St.Mary's Church, Fort St George on the 12th August 2007 at 6.00 p.m. led by the Rev. Deborah Premraj. The music was rendered by the John Millns Chorale under the leadership of Jabez Janagaraj. They sang 'Since by man came death', 'Let us now praise famous men', 'Never weather-beaten soul:' I'll praise my Maker while I've breath', 'I waited for the Lord', 'Christ who knows all His sheep', 'My song shall be always Thy mercy', and ended with 'God be with you till we meet again', Lionel Vedamanickam paid tributes to Padre by detailing Padre's knowledge and love of music.

All the above thanksgiving services were well-attended. Praise God.
